

ARC Physical Therapy of Westmont is proud to announce that they have joined PTforHeroes. A group of physical and occupational therapists along with speech pathologists across the nation created a community movement to offer very much needed help and support to doctors, nurses and other healthcare providers fighting on the front lines against coronavirus. PT FOR HEROES (www.ptforheroes.com), a national outreach program initiative has a mission to help ease the stress and pain of doctors, nurses and healthcare professionals on the front lines of COVID-19 with vital, free telehealth physical therapy, occupational therapy and speech pathology services. PT FOR HEROES is comprised of hundreds of volunteer private practice owners and physical therapists, occupational and speech therapists, practicing across the United States and offering telehealth, which is remote physical therapy, occupational therapy and speech therapy, to doctors, nurses and other health professionals in their state. All doctors, nurses and other health professionals are invited to sign up for free telehealth by signing up at PTforHeroes.com. There is no fee, no co-payment and this is 100 percent free and donated by each participating provider and private practice. To join us – or learn more – visit www.PTforHeroes.com.
